HAD 57 VARIETIES IN WITESS ARMY

Hershcovitz vs. Jerkowitz Hearing May Require Madison Square Garden.

"All witnesses in the case of Hershcevitz against Jerkowitz are excused with 10 o'clock next Wednesday morning," bawled the clerk of Harlem Police Court at 11 o'clock to-dty. Everybody in the space reserved for the spectators and witnesses arose and started for the door. They made a noise like an army. Magistrate Moss looked on in amazement "Who are these people?" he asked. "My witnesses,' cried Mrs. Rebecca Hershcovitz.

"And my witnesses," chimed in Moretz Jerkowitz.

"And I got nineteen more, besides chirty-eight that are here already," added Mrs. Hershcovitz.

Jerkowitz made a nervous grab al this whiskers. He had only twentyseven witnesses.

Jerkowitz is the owner of a big tenement house at No. 74 and 76 East One Hundred and Fifth street. Mrs. Hershcovitz is the lessee of the house, and both live there.

On Aug. 28 Jerkowitz went into the back yard, and says he discovered Lewis Hershcovitz, the eight-year-old son of the lessee, setting fire to the fence. The boy says he was not setting fire to the fence, but that Jerkowitz hit him with a whip.

Mrs. Hershcovitz went to Jerkowitz to remonstrate and she asserts that Jerkowitz knocked her senseless with a blow of his fist. She says she has insteen witnesses to corroborate this. Jerkowitz, on the other hand, has seventeen witnesses ready to swear that he did not lay his hands on Mrs. Hershcovitz.

There were lively doings in the big tenement-house in the three days following. Whenever Mrs. Hershcovitz met Jerkowitz all the tenants gathered around and enjoyed the conversation. Finally Mrs. Hershcovitz went to the Harlem Municipal Court and started dispossess proceedings against Jerkowitz.

Jerkowitz as owner of the house declarations.

dispossess proceedings against Jerko-witz.

Jerkowitz, as owner of the house, denied the right of the lesses to oust him and went on a hunt for witnesses. Mrs. Hershcovitz, learning that the landlord was rounding up the tenants to testify against her, swore out a warrant charging him with assault.

And that was what brought them to Harlem Police Court to-day. All the witnesses on both sides brought their children or parents, as the case might be. Jerkowitz was held in $2,000 ball for examination next Wednesday and if the work of gathering witnesses keeps up it may be necessary to hold the hearing in Madison Square Garden

Reason Why You Can Buy Goods Here for LESS Money Than You Must Pay in Other Stores In telling about the greatest stores of Greater New York a trade publication says of Macy's:

"In many ways this is the most remarkable house in New York.

"Established over half a century, it has never given a cent's worth of credit to any one, and to-day has the unique distinction of being the only firm of importance in Greater New York carrying on a strictly cash business. Naturally with such a system in force the firm has been able to sell very cheaply."

That explains what we mean by the sentence, "R. H. Macy & Co.'s attractions are their low prices."

Other things—like central location, splendid stocks and store service, contribute to the success of this great retail enterprise; but, after all, the greatest factor is Macy underselling. Between the price we pay for an article and the price you pay there is nothing more than the slender margin of profit our strictly cash system demands. No store that gives credit or resorts to other priceincreasing methods of getting business—methods such as concerts, theatrical devices, prizes, trading stamps and the like—can do business profitably on a mar gin so small as we get.

The dimes and dollars you save by buying for CASH in a strictly cash store like this more than offset the conveniences afforded by a "charge" account in a

Furthermore, you may enjoy similar conveniences here, with none of the faults, through the agency of our

DEPOSITORS' ACCOUNT DEPARTMENT

This plan gives you not only all the conveniences of the ordinary "charge' account, but all the economies of our strictly cash system.
